

Commentary (Visual Inspo)

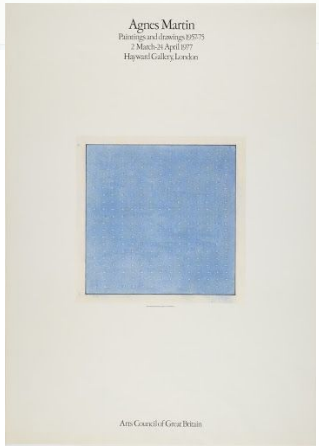

1. I like the idea of a minimalist background with pops of bright color
    a. Byron Kim's Minimalist art resonates with this vision
2. Like the way criterion closet is organized, want to do something similar replacing edits for film
3. Archives feel calm and organized (being places for organization) and so want non-cluttered site, lots of white space

Commentary (Typography Inspo)

1. To further the minimalistic aspect of the site (minimal background, lots of white space, pops of color), I like the idea of pops of text.
    a. Title should be larger cursive type fonts
    b. Subtext should be non-cluttered easy to read simple fonts
    c. Top middle shows type of font I would use for subtext
    d. Top right shows text “pop” I’d like to implement
    e. Bottom two demonstrate typography interaction with other components, minimal to no clutter desired
